Relay and Team Double-Click have teamed up to give real estate brokers and agents access to virtual transaction coordinators using the Relay system to manage real estate transactions, the California Association of Realtors said Monday.

Additionally, as a certified reseller of Relay, Team Double-Click will offer a two-hour online training course for brokers and agents who have purchased Relay to process transactions, CAR said.

Relay is an online transaction system for real estate professionals. It allows the tracking and management of all information related to a real estate transaction from listing through closing, including transaction contracts and documents, listing and sale information, and all communication generated throughout the transaction.

The Relay system also allows users to enable assistants, other agents or transaction facilitators to participate in the process.

Relay also features one-click integration with ZipForm and WINForms Online, the official real estate forms software of the National Association of Realtors.

Team Double-Click is a virtual staffing company providing an alternative to bricks-and-mortar staffing. Since 2000, Team Double-Click has provided professional virtual office assistants and professional real estate virtual assistants for small and home-based businesses.
